The Rules called for in 1887 were Rules of unoccupied lands - & lands then unoccupied -

But the restriction in question is intended chiefly to lands which may be unoccupied at a given time but all lands within a radius of half a mile, with this proviso - that in the case of occupied lands the objection shall cease as soon as any of them happen to be occupied by [illegible] -

A general order will be issued prescribing the time & trouble involved in reference in each & every case and in the preparation of Revs in the final terms in all such cases -

Ch leg

In British India there is I believe a Rule in the Rev. Dept prohibiting the grant of Govt land for occupation within a certain defined distance of the Railway. A similar rule should be prescribed for Mysore & the local Rev officers required strictly to enforce it.

The ch. leg will please submit the point to Govt in the Central Rev.

Has been done. A rule to this effect was enacted in 1887, half a mile from a Rail'y Station being the limit prescribed. Within this limit grant of land without sanction is prohibited. When applns are rec'd for such land, & the Dy Commrs (after consulting the Rly authorities) are of opinion that an appl may be granted, sanction is accorded to the grant on the condn that the grantee agrees to give up the land without claim to any compensation whatever when Govt may require the land. A note of the condns is made in the khaypeyan in each case.
